CAMP NEWS

INSPECTOR

Captain J.T. Hazard, District Inspector, Fort Douglas District made an inspection of camp June 26th.

CHAPLAIN CURTIS

Chaplain R.E. Curtis conducted "Camp-Sings" and lectured to members of the company twice during the month of June. Chaplain Curtis has taken a leave of absence and will not visit camp until late in July.

LT. MITCHELL

Lieut. Bert M. Mitchell, Mess Officer, has been transferred to the Willard CCC Camp effective July 5. The entire company extends every wish for his success.

Lieut. C. Scanlon, former Mess Officer for Company 4792, is to replace Lieut. Mitchell.

SIDE CAMP

Now that the New Mexico move has been settled, preparations are being made to send a side camp out to the Huntsville camp on or about July 5.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

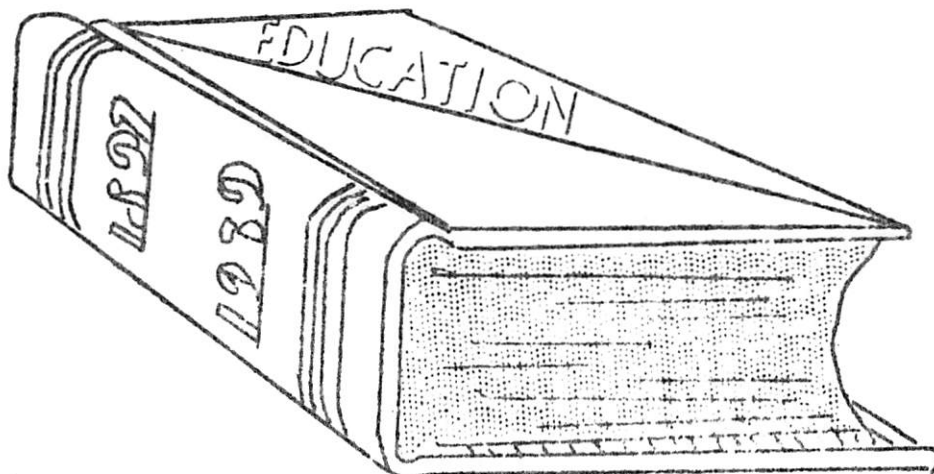

Lieut. McNamara, Commanding Officer, R. Brinkman, Project Superintendent, and R.N. Jiacoletti Educational Adviser, attended the Educational Conference for CCC Officials of the Fort Douglas District at the University of Utah on June 12th.

ENROLLEES LEAVE

The following named members of the company entrained on June 24 for their respective homes: C. Anders, T. Balluch, W. Bates, E. Blanchard, S. Brown, C. Bryant, R. Cornett, G. Davis, J. Emery, R. Hooser, J. Joyce, E. LaVasseur, V. Leintz, E. Linthicum, J. Parks, J. Powell, T. Samples, and E. Trego. A. Justin and R. Ramsey transferred to the Seventh Corps area.

FAREWELL DINNER

A farewell dinner with chicken and all the trimmings, was given to members leaving camp on June 24th. At this time Diplomas and certificates were awarded to the qualified members. However, the dinner could not compensate for the departure of friends.

NEW CAMP SCHOOL TERM

The following courses are available and will be taught during the new term beginning July 1st.:
ACADEMIC: Algebra, Arithmetic, Civics, English, Journalism, Penmanship, Reading, Spelling, and Writing. VOCATIONAL: Agriculture, Auto Mechanics, Baking, Bookkeeping, Carpentry, Cooking & Baking, Diesel, Mess Management, Photography, Radio, Typing, and Welding. ARTS & CRAFTS: Cartooning, Photo Tinting and Music. MISCELLANEOUS: First Aid and Safety.

NEW ASSISTANT E.A.

CERTIFICATES

The following named enrollees were awarded CCC Educational Diplomas: Thomas Balluch, Stanley Brown and Edward Trego. Unit Certificates were issued to: N. Prince, V. Leintz, R. Martin, J. Parsons, C. Bryant, E. LaVasseur, and J. Blanchard.

FILM SLIDES

Under the supervision of Superintendent Brinkman, an official BR Photographer has been taking pictures of the work projects, camp buildings, camp equipment, and safety practices, to be made into film slides for educational purposes.

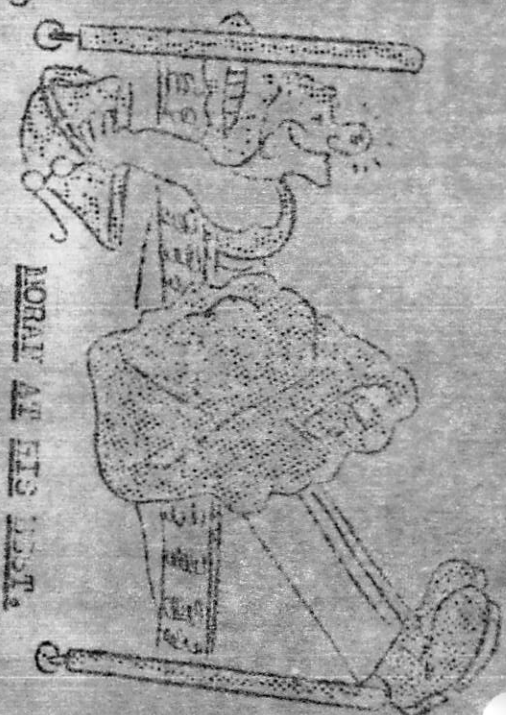

The Technical Staff have also been making more display boards for educational instruction. These boards were highly commended upon at the District Educational Conference.

FIRST AID

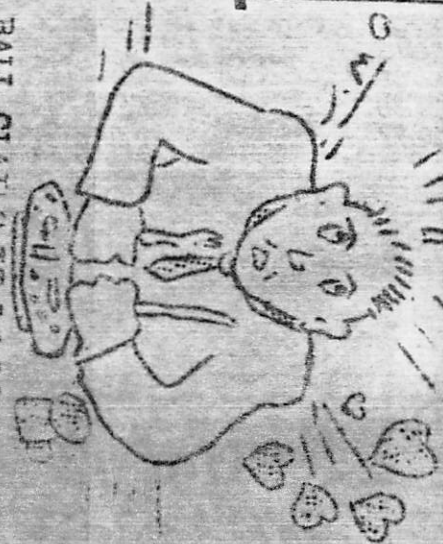

The present First Aid class is to terminate during the next week. Those failing to obtain a certificate and others, not now enrolled, can make arrangements with the Educational Adviser for the next class which will begin in the first week in July.

In order to qualify for a First Aid Certificate you must attend 18 out of the 20 classes and pass the final written examination.

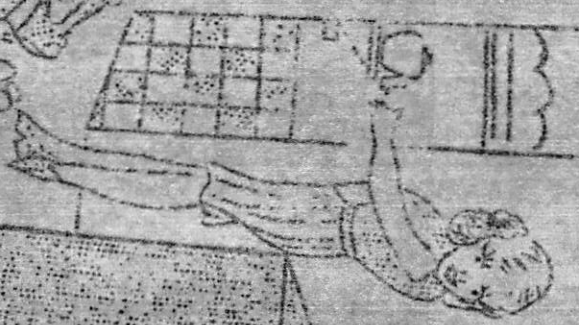

MAGAZINES ARE NOT TO BE TAKEN OUT OF THE READING ROOM.

JOKES

Fred: Put whatever you have in your mouth in that G.I. can.
Rookie: I wish I could. It's a toothache.

JewBaby: (Home late and trying to dodge the issue)--Gee, honey! It's raining cats and dogs outside.
Wifey: Ah, ah! So those are cat and dog hairs on your lapel eh?

Old Man: "No, you can't take my daughter riding."

Melvin: "Why not?"

Old Man: "I don't allow college boys to go out with my daughter."

Melvin: "But I ain't no college boy. I work at the CCC Camp."

Old Man: "I beg your pardon, sir my daughter will be ready in a moment."

Slayton: I'm suffering from pointed shoes.

Wyatt: But you don't wear pointed shoes.

Slayton: I know I don't, but my girl's old man wears 'em.

A member of the home missionary society approached a CCC boy. We are having a raffle for a poor widow," she declared. "Will you buy a ticket?"

"Nope, I couldn't keep her if I won her."

J.B.: (looking down at moon's reflection in water)--Say, what is that I see down there?

Morris: It's the moon.

J.B.: Well, how did I get way up here?

Lady: "Hey, fella, will you help me to make my husband jealous."

Roy B: "Oh, boy, will I?"

Lady: Good, go kiss your wife when my husband is looking!

Gal: Can you drive with one arm?

Hancock: You bet.

Gal: Okay, have an apple.

"Chick" Fainter says, Every heel needs a sock.

Blue: Do you want me to shoo these flies for you?

Corky: No, let 'em run around in their bare feet.

Moran: Beer.

Walter: Pale.

Moran: No, just a glass this time

Bennie: Do your meals ever bother you?

Walton: Sometimes when I'm paying the check.

Zuber: Baby, how do you like my looks?

Gal: Not much, quit staring at me.
